(A jury of eight was impaneled and sworn)

THE COURT: Please be seated.

All right. I want to give some quick rulings before the jury comes in.

All right. First, the question about Ms. Rowe's testimony and whether she can testify about her own involvement. Ms. Greene, I think you said, not having the benefit of a transcript, her own involvement in protests concerning sexual harassment and/or the resulting 2018 walkout, was that a question?

MS. GREENE: It's with respect to her participation in the walkout, which also included issues of pay equity, her own participation, and the motivation then for her complaint six days later.

THE COURT: All right. I view that as covered by Judge Schofield's ruling on defendant's second motion in limine, and provided that the probative value, if any, is likely to confuse a jury in a way that would prejudice the defendant. So no, she may not testify about that.

All right. As for the --

MS. GREENE: Your Honor --

THE COURT: That's my ruling. Thank you.

I'm moving on to the documents now.
